St. Xavier's College, Ranchi

St. Xavier's College, Ranchi was started by the Ranchi Jesuit Society on July 3, 1944. Ever since 1889 and pre-independence era, when a number of secondary schools came into existence in Ranchi, the Society felt the need of starting a College. The College was first affiliated to Patna University and when Ranchi University came into existence in 1960, the College was affiliated to Ranchi University. St. Xavier's College, Ranchi is a minority educational institution.

The college is devoted to ensure quality education by charting out advantageous, individualized, realistic and constructive under graduate and postgraduate courses, aimed at producing intellectually capable and socially committed students, ready to perform their duties towards nation building. The academic programmes offered by the institution highlights the vision of establishing St. Xavier's College Ranchi as the premier seat of disseminating knowledge by creating an atmosphere wherein students can realize their potentialities with the help of curricula that offers a synthesis of knowledge, skills and value sets. The college continuously strives to maintain the high standards of teaching-learning process by introducing desired changes to ensure constant improvements in the course outcomes.
